We are authorized to announce
HON. JOHN E. GARNER, of Clark County, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce
HON. T. T. FITZPATRICK, as a candidate for Congress, in this, the 10th District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce
HON. H. R. KINSOLVING of Montgomery County, as a candidate for Congress in this, the Tenth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Mt. Sterling is ready for war with sixty volunteers.

United States Warships are ready for action, but McKinley is not.

The noted epithetical Texas editor Brann, of the Iconoclast, published at Waco, Tex., met a just fate when he was shot to death by Col. Thomas Davis, the character of whose daughters Brann had called into question.

The Democratic Committee of the Tenth Congressional District has just completed a most harmonious and successful meeting at West Liberty, Morgan county, the banner county of the district. The eternal rocks of Democracy based on the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 are so deeply rooted and grounded in this grand old county that no hand save that which laid the foundation of her everlasting hills, would dare to venture upon the herculean task of disturbing much less upheaving it.

The magnificent yeomanry of that county fear not and bid defiance to all enemies at a "government by the people and for the people." Their women are even grander and more heroic than their men, and speak with words distinct that they want no man sent to our Congress who will not speak out in tones as distinctly audible as their own against all usurpations of that power, which resides in and emanates from the people alone.
They have sworn eternal vengeance to any who may disturb our financial foundations without the distinct consent of the whole people. They are ready to move at a moment's notice with their rafts now fully complete and equipped, and bid defiance to all the minions of monarchy, be they Spanish or American, and equally ready to support any candidate from any part of the grand old Tenth who will sustain their wishes in thundering tones in Congress. A grand body of men and women do not live on the earth and to visit old Morgan is a pleasure.

IS IT WAR?

This was last week, week before and every day since the going down of the ill-fated Maine the question has been "Is it war?" At the beginning from the moment of the flashing of the sad intelligence deep down in America's heart has been the reverberating spirit, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." Has the provocation been sufficient for war? If not, oh Heavens, what should it be? In the fifth of Havan harbor our stars and stripes our brave boys went down together, the one disgraced the other murdered.
For this treacherous crime there is cause for war, but we are asked to bury our dead, to shelve our disgrace, to withhold our weeping and suppress our resentful spirit while and go to the aid of a starving people. We have suffered it and now we are asked to be patient. Maybe we can coax, persuade cruel Spain to be merciful to her own subjects. For Spanish cruelty to her own, every civilized nation should demand cessation of hostilities, and for independence won by tribute and sword, she should be forced from the island. "Is it war that depends on the powers that be."

WONDERFUL LOVE.

There is a spirit of love with Americans.
Where was there ever more manifested than this: A dear mother's patriotic boy went down with the Maine. She loved her son, her heart was broken but above the sorrow she rose and said, "I have another boy, he is a soldier on another war ship, and if I could be I will give him for my country's cause to save the thousands of perishing Cubans." What love!

Binetallie Clubs.

There will be a meeting of the League of Binetallie Clubs of the Ohio Valley, which will be held in Tomlin's Hall, at Indianapolis, beginning Wednesday at 10 o'clock. Kentucky will be represented by ex-Senator Blackburn, Hon. C. J.
Branston, Judge James P. Tarrin and others. Wm. J. Bryan will deliver an address.

Save the Boy King.

The German Ambassador at Madrid, Herr Von Radowski, reports to the Foreign office here that the Spanish royal family fears an outbreak unless the differences between the United States and Spain are soon settled.

The Carlisle movement is assuming more active form and the royal family fears especially a pronouncement from Gen. Weyler and the military party.

Everything is prepared in the royal castles for flight. The boy, King Alfonso, will be taken to San Lúcar de Barameda, an Andalusian port, where a yacht is kept ready for sailing.

The replies to the Queen's letter asking for the intervention of the European powers have been wholly unsatisfactory.

The Weather.

Previous to last Thursday there were encouraging evidences that fruit and flowers were safe. There was a decided change on Wednesday night when the thermometer fell below the freezing point.
On Thursday night the cold still prevailed, the ground was frozen and thin sheets of ice were formed in tubs, etc. Inquiry reveals that some peaches have been killed on low grounds. Little if any damage was done to clover.

We call the attention of our readers to the card of the New Central Hotel in this issue. Without disparagement to any other house, we unhesitatingly say that Eastern Kentucky cannot boast of a better hotel than the New Central. Here the traveling man is assured of first-class meals served in home-made style, nice rooms, clean beds and kind and polite attendance. In fact it is a first-class home-made hotel—a home for the outer man and a feast for the inner man. Mr. Mitchell informs us he can accommodate a more or less of the boarders. The New Central is under the immediate care and personal supervision of Mesdames A. T.
Mitchell and Ada Rice.

M. L. Youcum, Cameron, Pa., says: "I was a sufferer for ten years, trying most kinds of pills, remedies, but without success.
DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me. I used one box. It has effected a permanent cure." As permanent cures are for piles DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has no equal.

Military Opening.

Do you remember those good times when the Miller called at the Thompson Grocery office with a bundle of manuscript and said, "put this in your local columns and charge me 25¢ per line"? We do. Those were good times, times when money was plenty, gold, silver and paper, it was all money, every body had it. A tramp was a curiosity in those good days. Now, you don't see that handful of manuscript at $25 per line. It is two or three lines at ten cents per line. Why is this? Not because goods are not as beautiful or that stocks are not as profitable but after paying expenses there is little left. The hardship falls on the editor largely. Friday we dropped into the large and attractive millinery store of T. P. Martin. It was opening day and we saw some beauties, we can't describe them, but every thing which went to make up the late styles were in perfect taste and what applied to one applied to the entire stock. A large crowd attended the opening and many were the purchases made. In addition to the millinery are complete lines of notions, parasols, umbrellas. The nobtest things in collar cuffs and all kinds of neck wear. The most experienced trimmers and women clerks attend to the wants of the trade and an unusual large stock for this season is open to the trade.

Have you seen the fine line of clothing at Denton, Guthrie & Co.'s?

Accident.

On Monday morning, about 9:30 o'clock, Mr. J. G. Trimble, Sr., while riding at his residence was caught by a wire clothes line which hung in the back yard, and as the horse was going rather fast, he was thrown backward to the ground with considerable force.
His right cheek and forehead over the eye struck the brick pavement. He was considerably stunned. Dr. G. N. Cox, who was passing, saw him fall and went to his relief. A deep cut about one inch long was made over the right eye through the brow. Mr. Trimble has been blind in his left eye for some years.

The family physician took a stitch on the wound. At this time it cannot be told what will be the result, as the eye is considerably swollen and is giving pain. Mr. Trimble's right leg is slightly bruised above the knee, and the fleshy part below the knee is painfully strained.

The following resolutions of respect were offered by the Gray Lock Sunday School on the death of Mrs. S. A.
Bush, which occurred on the 24th of March.

Whereas, It has pleased Him who doeth all things well to remove from us by death our beloved teacher, therefore, be it,

Resolved, That we the members of the Sunday School and pupils of her class, of which she had been teacher for a number of years, and to whom the bonds of love have united our hearts as one in humble submission to His divine will, and at the same time express our profound sorrow and regret at the death of her who was so faithful to perform her duties in the labor of the Master.

Resolved, That her invaluable devotion to our Sunday School in trying times and her christian example in her daily walks of life will always be remembered by us.

Resolved, That we rejoice in the positive assurance she gave her friends of her willingness to meet her Maker, resting confident that she would rest forever in his happy abode.

Resolved, That our heartfelt sympathy to this hour of deep affliction, go out to the bereaved family, and our prayers to Him who has promised to be a husband to the widow and a father to the fatherless.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the county papers and a copy sent to the family. And that the Secretary spread same on the records of this Sunday School.

April Fool.

In last week's Gazette, our enterprising grocery establishment, Chiles-Thompson Grocery Co., in a column article, went on to tell of a hailship launching which would take place April 1st.

It was a well written article, and gave in detail what would actually occur, and so vividly was it portrayed that though the launching was to come off April 1st, we could not doubt its reality, and were fixed up in our bed, waiting for the back and prancing steeds to convey us to war. When it did not arrive on time we grew nervous and called up Mr. Chiles who informed us that he was talking from the electric light plant, that the back had missed us and that in one moment more the great ship would plunge into the briny deep, to be known as the Queen of the waters, and that we had barely time to gain the top of the Masonic Temple where we could witness the ceremonies.
The ship was not launched for the reason that the shipbuilders, like Mc-Kinley with the Spain masters, wanted more time. The maids of honor were apprised and did not go. Judge French, master of ceremonies, was indisposed and the christener, Mr. Roy Kerns was satisfied with Kentucky baitship notoriety. No one was fooled for to those who stood on the banks with nothing in sight, expecting the ship to descend from the cloudless sky, it was "just as I expected." While the immense crowd patiently watched another large crowd was at the beautiful store-rooms of Chiles-Thompson Grocery Co., refreshing, wondering because of the collection and variety of new high-grade goods and low prices.
The opinion of every one was that for high-grade goods, valuation of stocks and beauty of building this store has few if any equals in Kentucky. The time for lunch was from 3 to 5 in the afternoon at which time 50 gallons of "Our Java Blend Coffee" and one-half barrel of cakes were served. The verdict was, "The coffee can not be beaten and for the lead you may always get the name of Chiles-Thompson Grocery Company." The delightful surprise was not for the purpose of making sales, but for an advertisement. It served both purposes well.

FACTS AND OBSERVATIONS.

A Short Stay at Clay City, Powell County.

Our opportunities for seeing Clay City were unsatisfactory, as the day was disagreeable on account of rain, and as we could stop only between trains, leaving on the 12:40 freight.

The impression made on a stranger entering the town is that a boom had once upon a time struck the town, or that one was beginning. The long distances between the parts of the town is responsible for this.

We were glad to meet our friends of former acquaintance, Rev. R. A. Irvine, Prof. D. A. Thompson, Charley Andre and wife and Courtney McGuire. Rev. Irvine is pastor of the Presbyterian congregation, which occupies the Methodist church, as they have not yet built a church.

Prof. Thompson is principal of the Clay City Graded school, and is now serving his second year. There have been enrolled this year 168 pupils. There are either four or five teachers in the school. We called. Our knocking having failed to bring a response, the door knob was turned; this failed to open the way; then we remembered that the day was Saturday. Smiling at the forgetfulness of some people, we continued our observations. We did not see the Professor's wife, who was in earlier days Mrs. Lizzie Calk when we were schoolmates.

Charley Andre is manager of the Clay City Lumber and Stave Company's large store. This establishment is evidently the largest commercial house in town, and is run in connection with the company above named. Mr. McGuire is clerking at this store. As Mr. Andre had married our cousin, Miss McGuire, of Hazel Green, we gladly accepted an invitation to dine with them at the hotel. After dinner we expected to see their baby. While waiting for its appearance a glance at the watch showed that in about 5 minutes the train was due to leave. Having to traverse some of the magnificent distances that prevail in the city, between the hotel and the store and the rear end of the local freight, we had to deny ourselves the anticipated pleasure of seeing the baby. We hustled and rested about 15 minutes, waiting for the conductor to send us ahead.

Clay City has eleven stores. We called at some of them—the company's store, Scheinmessel & Waldron's, Mrs. Williams' and M. S. Hale's. These carry general merchandise. Mr. Hale has been there about two years. He can supply his patrons with a juicy steak or a roast.

There are two church buildings in town—Christian and Methodist.

We took a hurried look at the big mills owned by the Clay City Lumber and Stave Company. We had heard frequent mention of this very extensive plant. We are told that about $450,000 were spent on this property in 'boom times. At present only about 65 workmen are engaged; these are in the planing mill and stave factories. Mr. Floyd Day is one of the present owners. The intention is to start the saw mill early in this month. This will largely increase the working force.

Last evening at the Opera House Mr. J. E. Toole opened to and delighted a large audience in "Killarney and The Rhine." Mr. Toole who reminds one very much of the late J. K. Emmet, is one of the most capable actors that has appeared on the Opera House stage. His quiet humor kept his auditors constantly amused, and his pretty songs, the kind which reach the heart, were thoroughly appreciated. Mr. Toole is ably assisted by Miss Lillian De Wolf and a company of merri.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

At the Intercollegiate oratorical contest at Lexington on Friday evening, there were five contestants representing Georgetown, Centre and State Colleges, and Central and Kentucky Universities. The medal was awarded to Garniss W. Hunter, of Central University.

Senator J. M. Thomas, one of the three judges, contributes a half column article to Leader, commenting on the various speakers and their orations. His choice was the representative of Georgetown College. In speaking of prize oration the Senator says it was probably the product of a mature mind, and that, in his judgment, the orator ranked third.

A. HOFFMAN & SON,

DEATHS.

WYATT.

On Wednesday evening, March 30, the spirit of little Eliza, three-year-old daughter of Fielder M. Wyatt and wife, returned to God who gave it. The combined ravages of whooping cough and pneumonia were more than her strength could endure. Burial services were held at the grave in Macphail on Thursday afternoon. We have seen the beauty of flowers fade during the past week, but this flower plucked from the home will continue fresh and beautiful in the heavenly home.

HOWARD.

Charlie Howard, of North Carolina is dead. He was one of five who were mentioned in the papers three weeks ago as being converted and baptized in Carlisle. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. in visiting the jail found these prodigals; they were sent to Frankfort prison, and young Howard was taken down with fever, caused from cigarette smoking, and on April 2, at 4 p. m. as a warning to young men, his life was sacrificed to the fatal habit. He was the youngest boy of a once happy family, who had left home, and his parents knew not of his wanderings until the wires flashed with the death message. The broken hearted father—it may be romies in duty—answered the warden, "Is it possible that this is my dear little boy?" The youngest a victim of the cigarette habit, an inmate of a State prison, disgraced on earth. It was in his behalf that the W. C. T. U. carried the gospel within prison walls, and the boy once in influence, once a tramp, once a criminal, once an inmate of the State penitentiary, had hope of heavenly citizenship. If the fond parents who loved their boy were ever neglectful in their duties, they will not be again from this time on. Parents, you may make your homes places, but that will not save your boys from temptations and snares of the evil one. Attention to the morals of the boys.

STOCKDALE.

On last Sunday George Stockdale aged 40 years died of consumption. Mr. Stockdale was a brother of Deputy Sheriff James Stockdale and was one of our best citizens. He leaves two children, his wife and two other children having preceded him. His remains were taken to Fleming county for burial.

DONNOHUE.

Judge D. C. Donnohue died of apoplexy Saturday evening at his home in Green Castle, Ind., at the age of eighty-four years. Deceased was a native of Bourbon county, and had in war times been prominent in political affairs. He was appointed Commissioner of Colonization and sent by President Lincoln to Hayti. He was a delegate to the convention of 1860, was a member of the Constitutional Convention in 1851, and very prominent in the early history of the Republican party. Deceased had been married sixty-two years and leaves a widow, one son and five daughters. Judge Donnohue was one of the best known of Indiana pioneer citizens, having entered the State fifty-seven years ago. Judge Donnohue was brother-in-law of Mrs. Elizabeth Donnohue, nee of Charles H. and Miss Mattie Donnohue, and cousin to James D. Hambrick all of whom are residents of this city. His wife who survives him is a sister of the late Burwell Tipton of this county.

Master Clarence Conway entertained a number of his young friends at his home on Thursday evening. A delightful luncheon was served.

The ladies of the Southern Presbyterian Church served a supper on Friday evening in the Johnson building on Mayville street. An Objection.

We most seriously object to the great originator's claim that he was the first to solicit at the dwellings of his customers for orders for family supplies. The Blue Grass Market Co., corner of Queen and Locust, were the first in that field, and believe in those times of war and rumors of war that the mellow tones of their bugle will be sweeter music to the ears of the people than will the constant ringing of their door bells.
